

MISSION OF JEFFREY BU

ntation to doc-
eukemia, and
ideshow, bottom.

a little nervous,
king it was okay.”

Bu said he also developments in n through other
ossible forthcom-
g stem cells.

e unit

l this equipment
out and set up,”

have the triage
e our search and
ir bags and hard
em will include T trained.”

artment is also
ational protocol
se.

Mark [Geiger]

dents wanted to participate, which was enough to renew the trip, he said.

“The trip is important for Harvard-Westlake students because, as a privileged school, we have a responsibility to reach out to those less fortunate than we are,” he said.

—Michael Sugerman

Students bake challah with Holocaust survivors

Six students from The Righteous Conversation Project baked challah with Holocaust survivors last Wednesday as part of a joint effort with UCLA’s Challah for Hunger chapter. The Righteous Conversation Project was founded by four seniors and aims to create an ongoing dialogue between teens and Holocaust survivors.

The challah was sold to UCLA students and the proceeds will be donated to Jewish World Watch’s Solar Cooker Project, which provides solar cookers to refugee women from Darfur.

—Abbie Neufeld

Alumna’s film ‘White Frog’